CK31 Holster and Belt Instructions

Use the CK31 holster and belt to conveniently carry the CK31 Handheld Computer when you are not using it. The CK31 has either a standard case or a large case, depending on whether it has an internal scanner or imager. The holster and belt are available in two models to accommodate each case:

- Large case (P/N 075508)
- Standard case (P/N 825-169-001)

Holster and belt: This illustration shows the holster and belt for the large case (left) and the standard case (right). You can use a handle with either version of the holster.

You can configure the holster to be worn on either side of your body. The holster can hold a CK31 with a handle or a serial adapter installed.

If you do not have a handle attached to your CK31, you can insert it into the holster without having to move the position of the holster. If your CK31 has a handle, you may want to configure the holster to more conveniently carry the CK31. For help, see the next instructions.

To configure the holster and belt, you need this tool:

- #2 Phillips screwdriver
